

In my city of Philadelphia, all the radio stations are owned by Clear Channel Communications, and the two major daily newspapers are owned by the same company, Knight-Ridder. There is therefore an extreme dearth of diversified opinion and reporting in the city as a whole. Media consolidation is anathema to democracy as a whole, DO NOT relax the rules even further. There are now many voices, but few mouths, do not limit them even more. Make the AMERICAN choice.